To Customers and Friends.

 N presenting our Autumn Catalogue we beg to say that our stock of Bulbs is by far the largest and finest we have ever offered. By taking many journeys to Europe, meeting our growers year after year personally, and making our selections on their grounds, we are able to offer perfectly healthy, well ripened bulbs of a quality not obtainable elsewhere and at remarkably moderate prices.

It is estimated that fully seventy-five per cent. of the bulbs imported into the United States are second grade. Disappointment and loss can only result from planting such stock. We deal in first-class bulbs and seeds exclusively, and we appreciate the patronage and kind recommendations of our thousands of customers far too highly to lower our standard in any respect.

Relying solely upon the high character of our bulbs and seeds for the growth of our business, we do not resort to sensational descriptions or extravagant illustrations in our catalogues.

Early orders are solicited, and all communications receive our careful personal attention.

Friends who receive this catalogue and have no use for it will confer a favor by handing it to some acquaintance who uses bulbs.

HYACINTHS.

REMARKS ON CULTIVATION.

HYACINTHS for POT CULTURE may be planted from September to December, though October is perhaps the best time for potting the mass. The soil should be rich and light; good loam, with a very liberal mixture of old rotten cow manure, and a little leaf mould and sand, will suit them well. Before potting, clear off all small bulbs or offsets, place a piece of broken pot over the hole of the pot, and then fill with soil, leaving the apex of the bulb just above the surface, and press the soil firm. The soil under the bulb should not be pressed before it is planted. After potting, give a good watering, and place them in some out-of-the-way corner of the garden, where they can have the requisite amount of protection from frost, till they are well rooted, when they may be removed to the greenhouse, forcing-house, or drawing-room, as may be required, keeping near the light, giving abundance of water, and a moderately moist atmosphere. If new pots are used, they should be plunged in water at least one or two days before planting the bulbs.

HYACINTHS IN GLASSES.—The water should only just touch the base of the bulbs; use pure pond or rain water mixed with two or three grains of salt in each glass, to keep the water clear, changing when it becomes foul; but at whatever time it is given, it ought to be of the same temperature as the air in which the bulbs are growing. Place them in a dark, cool room or closet for four or five weeks, until the roots have grown considerably, when they may be removed to the light. Full light, the sunniest situation, and air are very desirable, as they keep them dwarf and give full development and brightness to the flower and color. On no account should they be placed near the fire or in a dry atmosphere, as they will not succeed well unless put in a cool situation, where frost cannot reach them. Fill up the glasses with water as the level sinks by the feeding of the roots and by evaporation. Single Hyacinths are the best for Pot and Glass culture.

HYACINTHS OUT OF DOORS should be planted from October till frost sets in. They succeed in any good garden soil. Add some two inches of well-rotted manure, dig deep, and plant the bulbs about five or six inches apart, with a little sand round them, and three inches below the surface, covering during the winter with leaves, straw, or pulverized manure, to protect them from frost. No spring flower can compete with the Hyacinth in intrinsic beauty, grand and varied effect, and delicious fragrance.

EARLY ROMAN HYACINTHS.

This beautiful and very valuable variety of Hyacinth is more and more used every year for forcing and house culture. If planted in September and gently forced they will bloom in November, or their flowering may be retarded by keeping in a cool place. The flowers, which are smaller than the ordinary Hyacinth, are produced very freely, each bulb throwing up several spikes of delicately scented blossoms.

In pots or pans they show to best advantage when five or more bulbs are planted in each.

TULIPS.

All our Tulips are selected bulbs ; they have no superior in size and quality.

For beauty of form and brilliancy of color, the Single and Double Tulips cast all other spring flowers into the shade. Nothing can equal, much less excel, their gorgeous appearance in Beds, Lines, Ribbons, or Groups in the spring garden, to which they impart as gay and rich an appearance as the finest of summer bedding plants. In form, they are the most perfect of all Florist's flowers, whilst their wealth of colors and the purity and variety of their markings furnish abundant evidence of their extreme beauty and effectiveness in any and every position in which they may be placed. In selfs there are the finest shades of purple, crimson, scarlet, pink, yellow, and purest whites. Of striped flowers, there are purple, violet, crimson, rose, puce, cerise, and yellow stripes on snow-white grounds, and crimson, scarlet, maroon, and red flakes and feathers on rich gold grounds. As they succeed with every one, we recommend them with the greatest confidence. In addition to using them for bedding purposes, they should be largely grown in herbaceous grounds, in shrubbery borders, etc., in which a few clumps introduced at intervals have a most magical effect. In pots, also, with from five to twelve bulbs in each, they make fine specimens for the Greenhouse or Conservatory; force equally well with the Hyacinths, and require similar treatment. For keeping up a succession of bloom, we advise alternate planting of single and double varieties, and undergrowths of Forget-me-nots, pink Silene, etc., etc., for the fine contrast they afford, and also to furnish the necessary foliage.

For out-door, plant in October and November, and even in December should the weather be open and favorable, about four to six inches apart, according to the size of the bulbs, and from four to six inches deep. The same soil, etc., as for Hyacinths will suit them well. A light covering is necessary as a protection from sharp winds. The prices at which they are offered place them within the reach of all lovers of spring flowers. All the varieties of Single Tulips force readily.

The bulbs may be lifted at the end of May and be laid in, in some reserve spot, until the foliage has ripened off, when they must be taken up, dried, and stored away in sand.

LILIES FOR FORCING.

Of late years several beautiful varieties of Lilies have become exceedingly popular as window, greenhouse, and conservatory plants; they are also grown in vast numbers for floral decorations. The bulbs may be potted any time from August to November, and they will succeed in any good potting soil. They should be kept cool, and away from the air after potting; before being forced the bulbs must be well rooted. The pots may be brought forward as soon as active growth has commenced. For a healthful, vigorous growth a free circulation of air, even temperature, and judicious watering must be given. A temperature ranging from 65° to 75° suits lilies best.

Lilium Auratum.

LILIES FOR THE GARDEN, ETC.

No class of plants capable of being cultivated out-of-doors possesses so many charms as the Lily; rich and varied in color, stately and handsome in habit, profuse in variety, and of delicious fragrance, they stand prominently out from all other hardy plants, and, no herbaceous border, however select, should be without a few of the best sorts. With a well-selected collection, Lilies may be had in bloom from June to October.

They should be planted from October to March, in good, loamy soil, abundantly mixed with very rotten cow manure. Plant about six inches deep, and during the winter it is advisable to cover the surface of the bed with a thin layer of manure, which will not only afford a slight protection to the bulbs, but will materially enrich the soil. In spring the manure may either be removed or dug in between the rows.

Nearly all of them are deliciously fragrant, and the cut flowers are most excellent for the table, bouquet, vases and glasses, the flowers being very lasting, and opening full to the last bud in water.

SACRED LILIES, OR CHINESE NARCISSUS.

NEW YEAR'S LILY.

This is a beautiful and interesting variety of Narcissus Tazetta. It was introduced in Boston a short time ago by the Chinese, who grow and flower it admirably in their shop windows. It is very easily grown in water, and if set in the centre of a shallow dish, with small pieces of marble or stones, the roots will form a beautiful net work, and the bulb will flower freely. One bulb we grew had ninety-seven expanded flowers at one time. The flowers are yellow and white. Very attractive and excellent for window culture.

We offer the true, very free-blooming Chinese-grown variety.

JAPANESE SACRED LILY.

A fragrant, early flowering variety of Narcissus imported from Japan. The bulbs should be placed from seven to ten in a bowl or glass dish of water, partly filled with pebbles, some of which place around and over the bulbs to keep them in position. Place in a sunny window and change the water frequently. Each 5 cents; doz. 50 cents.

Bowls and Shallow Dishes suitable for Chinese and Japanese Sacred Lilies, can be supplied. Both these varieties of Narcissus succeed admirably when grown in pots; treatment and soil same as for the Hyacinth.

NARCISSUS.

Single Narcissus.

The Narcissus is a very fine genus of early-blooming plants including the Daffodil and Poet's Narcissus. Most of the varieties are perfectly hardy, and may be planted like the Hyacinth. They do well in nearly any soil, and are very effective when planted in groups and lines; with a little extra care in providing an undergrowth of Anemones, Scillas, blue Myosotis, pink Silene, or other dwarf spring flower, the effect is truly magnificent. Yield an endless amount of cut bloom when flowers are scarce, and being hardy, with no trouble. The newest sorts are not excelled in size, purity or intrinsic beauty, and most of them are adapted for pot culture. We recommend gardeners and amateurs alike to grow at least a few of all varieties.

For Forcing, almost all the varieties are suitable. The best and most commonly used for conservatory and house culture are the Bicolors, Trumpet Major, Bulbocodium, Von Sion and Single and Double Poeticus varieties.

Our assortment of Narcissus is not surpassed in the United States for variety and excellence.
